MODULE 04 · QUICK-START GUIDE

How the Program Works

Understand the referral structure, tier system, and exactly how and when you get paid.

- Earn per referral
- 3-tier system
- Residual income

The Referral Model — How You Earn

TechSavvy Hawaii pays you for every merchant you connect who signs up and processes payments. You're not a salesperson — you're a connector. Your job is the introduction. TechSavvy closes the deal.

100%

First Month Revenue

Top tier partners earn up to 100% of the merchant's first month processing revenue

$0

Cost to You

No investment required. No inventory. No monthly fees to stay in the program.

Residual

Ongoing Income

Earn monthly as long as your referred merchants keep processing with TechSavvy

How a referral works — step by step:

1. You identify a business owner you know who accepts credit cards
2. You start a casual conversation and mention TechSavvy's free analysis
3. If interested, you send their name + number to TechSavvy
4. TechSavvy handles the analysis, paperwork, and terminal setup
5. When the merchant processes their first payment, your payout triggers

Tier System — The More You Refer, The More You Earn

TechSavvy rewards consistency. As you submit more referrals, you advance through tiers — and your payout percentage increases automatically.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I need to sell anything?

No. Your job is the introduction. TechSavvy's team handles the analysis, pitch, paperwork, and terminal setup. You connect — they close.

When exactly do I get paid?

When the merchant goes live and processes their first transaction. Payouts are issued at the end of the following month.

What if I refer someone and they say no later?

You're still credited for the referral. If they come back to TechSavvy within 12 months, your commission is protected.

Can I refer businesses outside Hawaii?

Check with your TechSavvy contact — the program is primarily Hawaii-focused but may have exceptions for certain markets.

How do I move up a tier?

Tiers advance automatically based on total confirmed referrals. TechSavvy tracks this for you and notifies you when you advance.
